

A Girl of the Limberlost

Elnora Comstock, have you lost your senses? demanded the angry voice of Katharine Comstock while she glared at her daughter. Why mother! faltered the girl. Dont you why mother me! cried Mrs. Comstock. You know very well what I mean. Youve given me no peace until youve had your way about this going to school business; Ive fixed you good enough, and youre ready to start. But no child of mine walks the streets of Onabasha looking like a play-actress woman. You wet your hair and comb it down modest and decent and then be off, or youll have no time to find where you belong.
