JeromeThree Men in a Boat (To Say Nothing of the Dog),published in 1889, is a humorous account by English writer Jerome K. Jerome of a two-week boating holiday on the Thames from Kingston to Oxford and back to Kingston. The book was initially intended to be a serious travel guide,with accounts of local history along the route, but the humorous elements took over to the point where the serious and somewhat sentimental passages seem a distraction to the comic novel. One of the most praised things about Three Men in a Boat is how undated it appears to modern readers the jokes seem fresh and witty even today. The story begins by introducing George, Harris, Jerome, and Montmorency a fox terrier. The men are spending an evening in J.s room, smoking and discussing illnesses from which they fancy they suffer. They conclude that they are all suffering from overwork and need a holiday. A stay in the country and a sea trip are both considered. The country stay is rejected because Harris claims that it would be dull, the sea-trip after J. describes bad experiences of his brother-in-law and a friend on sea trips.Top 100 Best-Ever Classics Books: US> <http://amzn.to/1K9ZzqCUK>> <http://amzn.to/1L3UgOBCanada>> <http://amzn.to/1i02L1h>
