

Lady Barbarina: The Seige of London, an International Episode and other tales

The New York Edition of Henry James fiction was a 24-volume collection of the Anglo-American writers novels, novellas and short stories, originally published in the U.S. and the UK in 1907-1909, with a photogravure frontispiece for each volume by Alvin Langdon Coburn. Two more volumes containing James unfinished novels, The Ivory Tower and The Sense of the Past, were issued in 1918 in a format consistent with the original set. The entire collection was republished during the 1960s by Charles Scribners Sons. The official title of the set was The Novels and Tales of Henry James, though the more informal title was suggested by James himself and appears as a subtitle on the series title page in each volume. It has been used almost exclusively by subsequent commentators.
