

Moby-Dick; or, The Whale (Illustrated)

A unique production of a novel that does not require introductions, this eBook is illustrated with the works of Mead Shaeffer, A. Burnham Shute, and I. W. Taber that graced the pages of the printed editions by C. H. Simonds Co, 1892, Charles Scribners Sons, New York, 1902, and Dodd, Mead and Company, New York, 1922. The text follows the structure of the Harper & Brothers Publishers, New York, 1851, printed edition, but has been especially formatted to facilitate e-reading. Herman Melville was an American novelist, short story writer, and poet from the American Renaissance period. Melville is best known for his sea adventure Typee (1846) and his whaling novel Moby-Dick (1851). The latter is regarded as the Great American Novel along with, and by some ahead of, Adventures of Huckleberry Finn by Mark Twain. In Moby-Dick; or, The Whale, as the full title goes, a sailor called Ishmael narrates the story of Ahab, captain of the whaler Pequod, in his obsessive quest for revenge on Moby Dick, a white whale that on a previous voyage destroyed Ahab's ship and severed his leg at the knee. Call me Ishmael. is one of the most famous opening sentences of world literature.
