

Wilkie Collins - The Frozen Deep: I am a bundle of nerves dressed up to look like a man!

Wilkie Collins was born on January 8th, 1824 at 11 New Cavendish Street in Marylebone, London. A novelist, playwright and author of short stories, William Wilkie Collins was a popular figure in Victorian literature which was further enhanced by his charm and flamboyant lifestyle. He was a friend and collaborator of Charles Dickens. His own talents outshone most other literary figures and he is credited with the introduction of the modern detective story with The Woman In White. Other achievements were The Moonstone, All Year Round and Amadale. In all Wilkie Collins wrote some 30 novels, 14 plays, over 60 short stories and at least 100 nonfiction essays. He died from a paralytic stroke on September 23rd, 1889, at 82 Wimpole Street, and was buried at Kensal Green Cemetery in West London. Catharine Graves is buried with him, following her death in 1895. Here we publish The Frozen Deep originally a play that was guided in its writing by Charles Dickens and who also performed in as well. It didn't perform as hoped and so Collins re-wrote it entirely to give us the novella which is before you.
