

With the Wild Men of Borneo (1922)

This is an interesting account of life in British Borneo written by Elizabeth Mershon the wife of a missionary who was stationed in Sandakan with her husband. Mershon writes: Some years ago, the Mission Board invited me to go to China. Gladly answering the call, I was asked to lend a helping hand to the Singapore Mission for a few months before proceeding to China. While here, I was asked to go to Borneo, and it was not long after this that I found myself on the way to the country of the wild man. These people are full of superstition, and very much afraid of the spirits. Their idea of serving their gods is to offer them things in order to make them feel kindly disposed toward them. They know nothing of our kind heavenly Father who sent His Son to die for us, that we might be saved. May God grant that in some way these people may be reached.
